

TRAC President's Message

On TRAC Together

"From (Christ) the whole body, joined and held together by every supporting ligament, grows and builds itself up in love, as each part does its work." (Ephesians 4:16)

The apostle Paul pictures disciples as belonging to one body, growing and developing together, with each member playing its part. Paul is clear that there are many different parts in a body, and different parts play different roles. The body grows best when each member plays its particular part.

This picture of members working together, and supporting each other, is what we try to encourage in the phrase: On TRAC Together. We hope to help each other by working together for the good of the whole body.

This issue of OnTRAC features some of the events that have brought us together. There is a report of a Worship conference that saw members from our different local churches coming together for a time of worship, learning and sharing. Our youth members came together for an energetic and inspiring evening that was called Unite. There is also a report on our YMLC that brought together almost 300 of our young adult members over three days of learning, laughing, crying, praying and growing together.

But this issue looks beyond past events to the very near future as well. There are many different and edifying ways to celebrate Christmas, and none of us can offer everything to everyone. But together, we can celebrate Christmas, and invite others to celebrate with us, in many different parts of Singapore, at different times, and in many different ways. So let's be OnTRAC Together in celebrating Christmas in at least one of many ways this December, to the glory and pleasure of God.

My family and I wish you and yours a blessed Advent and Christmas season.
